SECTION B: Summary
(10 marks)

Read the passage and complete the following task.

We belong to the group of animals called mammals. Mammals are one of the groups of animals which have backbones. They also have warm blood, which is like having built-in central heating. Partly to keep the warmth inside their bodies, all mammals have at least some hair on their bodies. Mammals, which are newly born, always feed on their mother's milk at first.

Their warm bodies give mammals several advantages. They can live almost anywhere on earth. Some of them live in hot, dry deserts and others live on the polar pack ice. Warm-blooded animals can lead very active lives so mammals are active in many ways.

Mammals vary greatly in size and shape because each kind is specially built for the kind of life that it leads. Warm-blooded animals need more food and mammals have big appetites. Some of them eat any kinds of food, but others eat only plants or some meat only.

Write a summary on the characteristics of mammals.
